

INSTANT ACCESS TO CRITICAL INFORMATION

Ziphany, LLC Appears in Business First

Buffalo-Based Ziphany, LLC interviewed in Buffalo Business Publication, Business First

Source: Ziphany, LLC, Buffalo, New York

Publication date: 2003-04-23

April 23, 2003, Buffalo, NY (USA) - Ziphany, LLC, a provider of energy monitoring/verification and internet communications systems, was highlighted in an article published in the April 18-24 2003 issue of Buffalo Business First. The article "WNY firm develops energy-use technology" describes the way in which Ziphany can assist companies in reducing energy costs and offers some customer testimonials of the system.

From the article, Brian Palka CEO of Ziphany, stated, "Most companies know that they are spending a lot of money on energy. We help them understand how they use it and show them how to manage it."

Please watch our website for the article in its entirety, or find it at buffalo.bizjournals.com.

Ziphany provides an open-ended communications platform that permits data acquisition from multiple hardware devices and existing building management systems. These data are then transferred to Ziphany's secure website where presentation applications can be utilized to view information to help reduce operational costs.