

ENERGY PRICING

Ziphany's Energy Pricing Application collects energy pricing data from various sources and creates a single repository for the data. Using a standard web browser, the user can view, report and analyze all energy pricing information from anywhere in the world.

Utilizing the Ziphany Alarming and Notification Application, users can be alerted when prices cross thresholds set by the user.

Utilizing the Ziphany Data Collection & Integration Application, pricing data can be integrated into your in-house systems with minimal effort by your staff.
